PSQ HISTORY

Playhouse Square's original five (5) venues (Mimi Ohio, Connor Palace, KeyBank State, Allen and Hanna) were constructed in the 1920s in a mere 19 months. Impacted by the rise of television and population flight to suburbia, by 1968-69 all but the Hanna were eventually boarded up, as entertainment also moved to the suburbs. But in the 1970s, a grass-roots effort saved the historic venues from the wrecking ball, restoring and re-opening the theaters one by one, ushering in a new era of downtown revitalization, which was heralded by the media as "one of the top 10 successes in Cleveland history."

PLAYHOUSE SQUARE

Unique Features

PLAYHOUSE SQUARE “BLADE” SIGN

The Playhouse Square “blade” sign replaced the similarly shaped “Playhouse Square Center” sign on the Loews building. This version, though larger, is much more energy efficient. It runs off the same amount of energy as two (2) toasters.

GE CHANDELIER

North America’s largest outdoor chandelier is 20 feet tall, 8,500 pounds, and made up of 4,200 crystals.
